What is Secretariat?

Google shows a picture of a beautiful thoroughbred racehorse, the ninth winner of the Triple Crown and holder still of the fastest time record in all three races.

But that's not what Secretariat is about in North Carolina Episcopal Cursillo. Wikipedia defines Secretariat office as "the department of an organization that fulfills its central administrative or general secretary duties."

Who makes up our Cursillo Secretariat? How are these people qualified to administer Cursillo in the Diocese of North Carolina? Well, let's start with a familiar phrase: "All Are Welcome!" Any Cursillistas (persons who have completed a Cursillo weekend) are invited to drop by for a visit or join Secretariat as a member. Specifically, those who have "dropped by" and have stayed awhile on our current Secretariat are: Barb Magee and Jan Millar, Co-leaders; Rev. Pamela Haynes, Rev. Sarah Morris, and Rev. Stephen Becker, Spiritual Advisors; Dave Moon, Treasurer; Cameron Cooke, Tom Hamm, Ann Lockhart, Robert Selby, David Stokes, Patrick Sullivan and Frank Torrey.

Meetings have been virtual (by Zoom) for almost three years. But we are moving back to in-person bi-monthly meetings at All Saints' Episcopal Church in Greensboro beginning in June.

The focus of the past several month's meetings has been planning Cursillo #110.

Consider another familiar phrase regarding your participation in Secretariat: "All may, Some should, None must." If you feel called to come and see, send an email inquiry to NorthCarolinaCursillo@gmail.com.
